Motels Take More Study

Only ten of the sixteen motels were granted their use permits yesterday; the rest will require further investigation by the Land Use Committee of the Board of Adjustments.

The Commission yesterday granted use permits to the following, contingent upon payment of any back taxes owed to the City: Colonial Terrace Inn, Normandy Inn, Lamplighters Inn, Stonehouse Guest Lodge, Sea View Inn, Edgemere, Green Lantern, Happy Landings, Holiday House and Buena Vista Cottages. Only the Stonehouse Guest Lodge and Holiday House contained restrictions. The Stonehouse Lodge must exclude the Studio Apartment from their use permit, and the Holiday House must exclude one vacant lot, and a portion of another from their permit.

The others held for action next month, July 17, are: Cottages by the Sea, Catalan Residence, Forest Lodge, Songbird, Carmel Cottage Courts, and San Antonio House.

PARKING

The City Council and the Library Board met recently to discuss the design of the temporary parking lot on the Girl Scout property at Lincoln and 6th. But, the design did not meet the Planning Commission's standards because it provided for only eight parking stalls and took away three along the streets. The Commission made adjustments to the plans, eliminating one of the two entrances, resulting in the formation of an additional stall. While the adjusted plan will require users to back out onto Lincoln, only one street parking space will be sacrificed.

SIGNS AND ORDINANCES

In an attempt to rid Carmel of "un-romantic" signs, the Planning Commission prepared an ordinance prohibiting enameled plastic and metal signs. However, after close examination, the Commissioners were not completely satisfied with the wording and the ordinance will be reworked before the next meeting.

Other proposed ordinances were discussed, and again, wording stopped further action. The Commission spent time on the ordinance providing for Design Review approval of color and material of exteriors in the commercial districts and an ordinance requiring a use permit for building sites with excessive slope (30 degrees or more).

The only ordinance which did pass the Commission was the one regulating irregular shaped building sites.

COUNCIL MEETS

At the Adjourned Regular meeting of the City Council last night, the City accepted United California Bank's bid for the tax interim loan at the rate of 3.47% on $180,000. Wells Fargo Bank bid high with 4%.

The City is able to put their reserve money on time deposit, borrow the $180,000 at the 3.47%, and still realize a 2% profit. City Administrator Hugh Bayless said that "We estimate that in about another 4-5 years, this debt will be completely wiped out."

FORESTRY COMMISSION

Max Smith was named to replace Dr. F. Haasis to the Forestry Commission. Mr. Smith, according to Mayor Barney Laiolo, "is a retired gentleman with a history in Forestry primarily in chemical lumbering." The Mayor recalled that Mr. Smith came to Carmel 4 or 5 years ago after his retirement. He lives on Carpenter between 3rd and 4th.

LIBRARY PARKING

Councilman Herb Blanks commended the Planning Commission for its adjustments to the proposed temporary parking lot on the Girl Scout property. The City Council's recommendations were to illuminate the exit, put planting on the outside of the fence, put the entrance at the north end of the lot and point the parking stalls south. The entire project will take about $900, which will be taken from the 1968-69 budget.

We are too apt to let the mean things of life overgrow the finer nature within us; therefore it is expedient that at least once a day we read a little poetry, or sing a song, or look at a picture.

Von Ruhs Studio Robbed Third Time

Marlinde von Ruhs, distinguished painter, who moved from her Carmel Valley Studio into Sunset Center last year, is getting a bit discouraged by her treatment in Carmel.

For the third time recently, she has been robbed, the last time of six paintings and the stereo set which provides background music for her studio. This happened in spite of having the locks changed.

Circle to Open Comedy 'See How They Run'

"See How They Run," a comedy by Philip King, will open Wednesday, July 3, at the Circle Theatre in Carmel.

The plot of this wildly funny play begins when matronly Miss Skillon arrives at the Vicarage in Merton-Cum-Middlewick, England, to pay a call on Rev. Toop. As it has been Miss Skillon's duty to decorate the pulpit for Easter and Harvest Festivals, she is somewhat aghast to learn that the Vicar's wife, Penelope Toop, has already decorated the pulpit with turnips and leeks, instead of the traditional chrysanthemums. Miss Skillon leaves in a huff, and Penelope decides to accompany American Sergeant Clive Winton to a theater group's show "Private Lives" in the next village. As the next village is out of bounds to the Sergeant, he first disguises himself in the clerical garb of the Vicar.

In the meantime the real Vicar returns, an escaped Russian spy makes a mysterious appearance through the French windows, and the Bishop of Lax pays a courtesy call. At the same time Penelope and the Sergeant, dressed as the Vicar, arrive back from their night on the town.

The Russian spy, now also dressed as the Vicar, comes in through the garden, screams "Tovarich," and promptly hits the bewildered Bishop of Lax over his head. The four men, all dressed in clergymen's suits, present a problem of which is which.

The play is being produced under the direction of Nick Zanides. The opening week will play July 3 through the 7th, and thereafter will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 through July. Reservations are now being accepted at the theatre box office by phoning 624-2669.

Schegel; Richard Soden as Jacquot; Anne Trivitte as Princess Olga; Val Vreeland as Gladys Zuwicki; Karen Emerson as Gloria Zuwicki; and Donna Jo Towey as Greta Schlegel. As the show's roustabouts are Saxon Rawlings, Gary Tao, James Trivitte, and Geoff Cocks.

"Carnival" will run nightly from June 28 through July 3, including Monday, July 1, followed by "The Boy Friend" July 5, 6 and 7. "Carnival" will resume the week of July 9 and will alternate with "The Boy Friend" every other week, nightly except Monday, through the end of August.

Theatre Review

THE DEVIL'S BRIGADE . . . Another "dirty, dozen" soldiers act out the heroes of World War II. Not quite topping The "Dirty Dozen," the "Brigade" offers an evening of excitement.

THE SHUTTERED ROOM . . . Good fantasy chiller. Gig Young stars in this harrowing tale of the improbable.

GOOD, BAD, AND UGLY . . . Nearly three hours of guns and gore with the Civil War thrown in.

ROSEMARY'S BABY . . . A young lady conceives the Devil's child. It makes for unpleasant days in the life of the innocent couple.

ODD COUPLE . . . Walter Matthou and Jack Lemmon set up housekeeping together when their wives leave them. Two funny men do a funny show. A must.

GREEN BERETS . . . John Wayne (will he ever age?) takes the role of a commander of a Vietnam unit. Just Vietnamese are fought by Indian Fighter, John Wayne.

IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT . . . Academy Award winner and well worth it. A Southern policeman mistakes a Negro for a criminal.

JUNGLE BOOK . . . A full-length cartoon in excellent taste. Educational as well as entertaining. With it goes, CHARLIE THE LONESOME COUGAR. Excellent photography and as good for adults as it is for children.

THE GRADUATE, interesting, if not completely compelling comedy.

GRAND PRIX . . . a beautiful film cinemagraphically speaking. Stars actually race at high speeds while filming this magnificent picture in 70 mm film. Full stereophonic sound adds to the impact.

The 30-minute documentary was produced by Wolper Productions of Hollywood, one of the top documentary filmmaking organizations in the world.

"California" was undertaken by Bank of America as a public service "to present a current, well-rounded picture of the state in all its strengths and weaknesses," Johnson noted.

The film is available free of charge to any civic organization, service club, school, church, or similar group.

Interested groups may contact Mr. Johnson or order the film through any Bank of America branch.

"The Boy Friend" Captivating Summer Fare at the Studio

"The Boy Friend," energetic and gay spoof of the 20's, opened last weekend at the Studio and sent its enthusiastic audiences home with light hearts. For some it stimulated memories, for the rest it explained the long run in London and Broadway which brought Julie Andrews to fame.

Elaine Yates was both beautiful and appealing as Polly who was searching for a boy friend while attending a girls' boarding school on the Riviera. Her schoolmates, played by Janie Tucker, Luann Brown, Vickye Welch, and Carol-Ann Hughes, were way ahead of her there. They had managed to attract four French boys, played by Frank Mancha, Tim Harper, Roger Parkes and James Sweeney.

She finally found him in the attractive person of Beau Stark, who alas, appeared to be only a messenger boy, not acceptable to her wealthy father who was visiting. While her father, played by Milton Hayes, melted to the charms of the head-mistress, sung appealingly by Vee Mariano, she finally got her man, as did all the rest.

Carol-Ann Hughes, as Maisie, typified the youthful exuberance of the Charleston era and brought back the Clara Bow mannerisms of the time. Completely natural and unself-conscious, she was a thoroughly likeable clown.

J. C. Hale as the flirtatious, elderly man attracted by the young girls, almost stole the show. He was kept in tow by Charlotte Minor who also gave a believable characterization.

Betty DeWitt was properly solicituous of "the young ladies" in her role as French maid at the school, and the waiter, George Spelvin completed the excellent cast.

Excellent dancing was choreographed by James Sweeney, and well rehearsed. A special tango was performed by Janie Tucker and Frank Mancha.

Clever and colorful costumes, especially those at the beach, were designed and executed by Judy Evans. Set designs and lighting was by Bob Evans, Jr. The flickering lights in the ball scene were very effective, as were the beach scene sets.

Roger Osgood provided excellent musical direction and accompaniment.

The whole thing was put together and directed by Don Osborn. "The Boy Friend" will alternate weekly, starting Fridays with "Carnival" which opens tomorrow evening.

Side-light by Hascal V. Stewart

"In 1963, a delightful English actress, Angela Lee, was courier on our bus tour of France and Italy. She entertained us as we rode along with songs from "The Boy Friend." Angela's mother, a London dance teacher, had taught her and a girl friend the Charleston. They made up a skit which so intrigued their great friend, Sandy Wilson, then at Oxford, that he wrote the musical play around it in 1953.

Angela and her g.f. went on tour with it for two years, playing the parts of Maisie and Polly. They have been the recipients of pleasant trips to Acapulco and such places because of the loyal author's gratitude.

"The Studio Theatre is most fortunate in its cast and staff.

"As one of the audience, sitting in a comfortable chair, having enjoyed an excellent dinner, lifted from the elegant copper buffet service by the popular chef, Walter Jones, I was sorry to see the delightful play end. The nostalgia I felt doubtless was due to my knowing the "Charleston," about the time of Angela's mother."

Tennis Tourney Draws Celebrities

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and MacDonald Carey, frequent visitors to the Monterey Peninsula, are among the first to enter the Celebrity Tennis Championships at Pebble Beach set for July 6 and 7.

Zimbalist's son, Efrem III, graduated from Robert Lewis Stevenson in 1964, and Carey's daughter, Theresa, is a student at Santa aCtalina — two good reasons for their frequent visits to the Peninsula.

The tournament will feature a large draw of well known personalities from television, movies, athletics and journalism.

Julian P. Graham Studio

Cornel Wilde, a finalist in last year's Celebrity Tennis Championship at Pebble Beach, has entered again this year and can be seen in action during the tournament July 6 and 7 at the Beach and Tennis Club.

Summer School Staff To Meet With Parents

The parents of those K-4 youngsters who will be attending summer school are requested to reserve Thursday evening, June 27, at 7:30 p.m. at Carmelo School for a preview of the summer school program.

Since many aspects of the program differ in manner of presentation, and in classroom organization from the regular school year, the staff wishes to describe the exact nature of the program to parents in advance of summer school.

The Carmel Unified School District's elementary summer school program will begin July 1, offering 162 kindergarten through fourth grade students individual learning opportunities in language arts, mathematics, science, humanities, and physical education. This is a four week program to be conducted by two teams, each consisting of three teachers.

Because there is a waiting list of 79 students, parents are urged to contact Carmelo School immediately if their plans change regarding their children's attendance at summer school.

Transportation will be provided for summer school students according to the following schedule:

Leaves Carmel High School at 7:50; Woods School at 8:00; Sunset Center at 8:05; River School at 8:10; Rio Road & Mission Fields Road at 8:12; Carmel Middle School at 8:15; Via Mallorca at 8:17; Canada Way at 8:18; Brookdale Drive at 8:19; Wolter's Market at 8:20; Meadows Road at 8:22; and Carmelo School at 8:25.

Return Trip will leave Carmelo School for Lower Carmel Valley and Town Areas at 12:40 p.m.

People talk of a change of opinion as if it were a disgrace. To me it is a sign of life. If you are alive, you must change.

Men of the 101st Airborne Division were captured on film by Steve Gann during a fire fight in the Rao Nho Valley, Vietnam. At left a GI is trying to move in on an enemy bunker which is only 15 feet away, but very well concealed in the thick jungle foliage. At center is an aidman helping a wounded GI after an enemy rifle grenade burst over him. At the right the men of the 101st Airborne evacuate a wounded GI to the landing zone for helicopters. "All of these men are teenagers and it will be a few years before any of them reach 21," says Steve Gann.

Pause for Thought

This is an exclusive story from our local writer and war correspondent Steve Gann. In preparing this, our plant superintendent Tom Gambon made the comment, "Our young men have always been willing to spend their lives to safeguard their country, and the world. They are willing to spend and we should be very thrifty."

by Steven A. Gann
South Vietnam

The question often arises as to why the men in Vietnam are fighting. To the uninvolved there seems to be a choice factor, that the men here can somehow bargain their position. But it doesn't take much exposure to enemy rocket and weapons fire to realize that there is no bargaining, no compromise, and no way to escape the rash reality of the war. The politicians may expound great ideals and platforms, the generals may step forth freshly shaven in glittering uniforms and speak of victories, of high morale, and of our honored dead. However, at the end of a very long funnel that narrows sharply to a small percentage of men who really do the fighting, the thoughts and ideals are decidedly different.

A member of the 101th Airborne Unit prepares to attack a Vietnamese strong hold in the Rao Nho Valley.

For the men deep within the jungle of Vietnam there is only a constant film of sweat, of backs bent under the weight of rucksacks, of branches and vines that tear at their clothing, and rip into their skin causing festering cuts that swell and burn for weeks on end. And always the molesting insects and private hell of blood thirsty leeches.

Their concern extends no further than their gut and whether they'll have sufficient food and water for the days ahead. They march, climb, and at times crawl through endless days, as the mountains of the highlands stumble sharply into one another, with only narrow valleys separating them. Their only democracy is a buddy's wish, their only authority a ranking officer, smelly and soiled just like them. Their only relief is hen pecking one another and an occasional letter from "The World" back home. For these men there are no USO shows, no movies, and nothing that would resemble a cold beer or soda. They have nothing for entertainment but the daily cleaning of weapons, and the never ending game of hide and seek with the NVA.

And when contact is made these young men fight for each other and their own lives, for it becomes simply a matter of survival. You do not discuss the varied philosophies of mankind or the "love thy neighbor" sentiments with incoming rockets, mortars, or grenades. You do not attempt private peace talks with an NVA soldier as he opens up with his AK-47 with the sole intent of killing you.

And at night when the sounds of the jungle are magnified and the men lie under their ponchos they think of home and a way of life almost impossible to remember. And usually it is not long into the night that the reality of their world is brought home as probing NVA trip over perimeter flares and claymores blast the stillness of the night. And once again it is simply a fight for survival.

Bach Festival First Program

Mozart will share the spotlight with Johann Sebastian Bach in the opening program of the 31st Carmel Bach Festival, July 19-28.

Sandor Salgo, Musical Director of the Carmel Bach Festival for thirteen seasons, has scheduled one of Mozart's great choral works, the C minor Mass, K. 427, which was first done at Carmel four years ago.

On the same program at Sunset Auditorium will be Bach's Cantata No. 69 "Lobe den Herrn, meine seele" ("Praise to the Lord") and Bach's Concerto for Two Violins in D Minor (BVW 1043) played by David Abel, distinguished violinist and Kenneth Goldsmith, concert master.

Cantata No. 69, being given a first performance at Carmel, is one of some 300 church cantatas written by Bach as functional music for Sunday and Saint's Day services, principally during his lone tenure as Kappellmeister at St. Thomas Church in Leipzig.

Soloists will be Mary Esther Nicola, soprano, chorale member since 1960; Margery Tede, mezzo-soprano; tenor Melvin Brown; and John West, bass, making his Festival deubt.

The D Minor Concerto for Two Violins, perhaps the most celebrated concerto for two violins ever written, is being done for the first time in 12 years at the Carmel Festival.

Abel will be especially remembered by Carmel audiences for his critically acclaimed recitals at last summer's Bach Festival in which he played the complete series of Bach Partitas and Sonatas for Unaccompanied Violin.

The placing of the Mozart Mass on a Bach Festival program is in keeping with the direction that the Carmel Bach Festival has taken in recent years.

The Mozart C Minor Mass, labeled "The Great", was written in 1783 in connection with a vow that Mozart had made the year earlier when Constanza, then his sweetheart, lay ill. Mozart vowed that he would write a huge choral work if Constanza recovered and also consented to become his wife, Maestro Salgo noted.

Constanza did both, and Mozart proceeded to keep his promise.

Soloists for the Mozart, which will be done with the Festival Orchestra, Chorale and Chorus, will be Delcina Stevenson, of the Western Opera Theater, who is appearing at the Carmel Bach Festival for the second season; Mildred Owen, soprano; Mr. Brown and Mr. West.

The opening concert will be repeated on the following Friday, July 26. Both programs begin at 8:30 P.M. in Sunset Auditorium.

Other programs during the ten-day Festival will feature an orchestral version of Bach's "Art of the Fugue;" the complete Mass in B Minor; a world premiere of "Le Carnaval des Precieuses," a concert of French music of 1660; and a program of Baroque Music of New Spain.

For ticket information write Carmel Bach Festival, Box 503, Carmel, California, 93921, with self-addressed stamped envelope enclosed.

Market implications of the surtax

A Positive Investment Policy in today's economy must balance the short-term implications of the new surtax against the long-term potential of the world's most creative technology.

Dean Witter's latest Economic Policy Committee report comments on this and other important investment considerations:

□ what impact will the surtax have on corporate profits?

□ what impact do the rapidly advancing world living standards have for the imaginative investor?

□ what impact will domestic inflation and monetary policy have on corporations and the consumer?

□ what impact will pent-up demand for housing have on the construction industry?

Informed investors should have a copy of this timely document, which includes a list of recommended securities. It is available at the nearest Dean Witter & Co. office. Or, if you prefer, just phone or fill out and mail the coupon below. There is no cost or obligation, of course.

Wedding Bells

Mary Lou Thompson Marries Bob Atkins

It was something of a homecoming for Mary Lou Thompson of San Jose to have her wedding to Robert Joseph Atkins of Del Rey Oaks, take place at All Saints' Episcopal Church on June 8. Mary had come to Carmel to live with her aunt, Mrs. Stella Cross, when she was in eighth grade, following the death of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Thompson of Martinez. She lived here until she graduated from from Carmel High School.

The Reverend David Hill officiated at the evening ceremony for which her older brother, Harry Thompson of Richmond gave her away.

Mary Lou wore a white gown of organza and Chantilly lace with ring-point sleeves and sabrina neckline, its train, chapel length. A petal headpiece held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of glamelias.

Her maid of honor was Miss Janet Riley of San Jose, and her other attendant Mrs. Mikael Siewart of Burlingame. Mrs. Frank Pelican of San Jose was in charge of the guest book.

Robert, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Admiral Atkins of Del Rey Oaks, chose his brother, Donald, for his best man. His ushers were James Ward and Herbert Bivens, both of Monterey.

The wedding reception was held at the Pine Inn in Carmel, after which the couple spent a week in Coronado.

Mary Lou, a graduate of San Jose State, is teaching in the Cambrian School District in San Jose.

Robert, after graduating from Monterey Peninsula College, attended San Jose State and is now attending Flight Education in San Jose where they will live.

Mary Lou's brother, Donald, who is stationed with the Air Force in New Hampshire, flew here to attend the wedding.

Other Carmel relatives present were her cousin, Miss Clarice Cross, and her other two aunts, Miss Ruth Griffins and Mrs. Winifred Kusek.

Bach Festival Party at Dahl's

"Volunteers are still needed to help fill the sand bags for the candles which will light the way to the evening concert at the Mission," Michel Mackay, Bach Festival executive secretary, told assembled guests. "And of course, we need coffee break helpers and untold numbers of cookies." In as much as last year's rehearsal coffee break chairman "was on a houseboat in India", Mrs. Jay Chappell and Mrs. Rhea Dively agreed to be co-chairman of the breaks.

Mrs. Mackay introduced Mrs. Charles A. Dowdell, wardrobe chairman, who expressed a need for helpers, and Mrs. Harwell Dyer who called for volunteers to provide transportation when needed. Mrs. Walter Jennings said that she could use a few more ushers, and Mrs. Walter Lehmann, housing chairman, hoped for a few more homes in Carmel within walking distance of Sunset, who could put up out-of-town chorus or orchestra members for the full twenty days, or for a few days.

Mrs. Philip Schneeberger, chairman of entertaining, urged people to call the office if they would like to have a few of the participants for dinner or several for a party, or if they'd like to show some of them around the Peninsula.

Prof. John Brock, house manager, called for some people to sell programs before performances. Fritz Wurzmann, chairman of recitals, was also present.

Ralph Linsley, harpsichordist, and business manager for the Festival for 30 years, was introduced by Bach Festival President, Arthur Dahl, following a talk by Maestro Sandor Salgo.

Alpine Party At Thomas Home

The mood was Austrian . . . with international accents . . . at the reception given by the Friends of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies for the summer session faculty on June 20th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mark Thomas. A corner of their spacious yard and pool area on Scarlett Road in Carmel Valley carried out the Alpine theme, with an assist from the weather, which contributed a balmy summer evening.

Hosts Jack Dougherty, Dan Tibbitts, George Leutzinger, Gordon Reid and Tom Ehrman, and hostesses Mrs. C. Tod Singleton, chairman, Mrs. Melvin Dick, decorations, Mrs. Charles Kramer, Mrs. Robert McMahan, Mrs. Frank Ringland, Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mrs. Hans von Richter and Mrs. Elizabeth McAlester, as well as the C. Mark Thomases, were all authentically dressed in Austrian costumes . . . dirndl skirts and lederhosen, as were a contingent of the younger set.

In all, the Friends attending the gala reception numbered over 150. The international flavor was provided by the honored guests, the 64 members of the Institute faculty representing seven foreign languages currently taught at the Institute, as well as those faculty members concerned with the teaching of politics and diplomacy, international economy and area studies.

Mrs. George B. (June) Turner of Rancho Rio Vista left recently for Stockholm where she was to meet the Reuben Johnson family who are in northern Europe. Dr. Johnson is on sabbatical from Monterey Peninsula College where he is chairman of the Social Science division and instructor in history. His son Rod was an advanced student there before high school graduation in February. He will enroll at the University of Salzburg.

"Ole Bill" brought popularity to the cartoons of Bruce Bairnsfather during World War I. He is the uncle of Judy Evans of Carmel, who provided the Pine Cone with this cartoon. Others may be seen at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art during their exhibit of 18th-20th Century Illustrations. Bairnsfather is also author of "Bullets and Billets," "From Mud to Mufti," and "Carry on Sergeant." He had a play on Broadway, "The Better 'Ole" which was later made into a movie starring Sidney Chaplin. The play featured Charles Coburn who acted at the old Wharf Theatre on Cannery Row. Judy said "The Better 'Ole" ran 250-odd performances in 1923.

New Carmel Artists Win Prizes

Two watercolor artists, new to Carmel, Eugene Towne and Elizabeth Keatinge, won first and second prizes in watercolor at the recent art show at Del Monte Center. It so happens that these two artists paint together in their studio at Third and Monte Verde.

They are both members of the Society of Western Artists, and they have exhibited at the Oakland Museum, the de Young Museum in San Francisco and the San Francisco Museum of Art, among other places. Mr. Young is on exhibit at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

The titles of their water colors were "Prairie Creek Redwoods" and "Morning in the Redwoods", respectively.

A number of other Carmel artists were represented also.

Elementary Education Breakthrough in Art

"Adventures in Perception" is the apt title for the newest introduction to the summer program at All Saints' Day School (Bishop Kip). At the Episcopal elementary school in Carmel Valley. Mrs. Peggy Cottom Winslow will present two sessions of two weeks each in which the principles and disciplines of art will be integrated into the elementary school curriculum. Rather than art being taught as a separate subject, art principles will be used as a common reference point in such diverse subjects as mathematics, reading, and science, with special emphasis on biology and biological forms.

Attendance at either of the two week sessions being offered is open to elementary school children who are summer visitors as well as to regular residents of the Monterey Peninsula. Full information may be obtained by telephoning the school, 624-9171.

Hamilton Shows Again in Carmel

After touring the country on box cars drinking bad wine all the way, almost to his death, Artist Richard Hamilton has regained his senses and has become an outstanding artist.

Hamilton spent time in 36 California jails before he took stock of himself and began the long road to reform. It was on the Monterey Peninsula many years ago that the bad wine caught up with him, doctors telling him it would kill him if he continued. He joined the Alcoholics Anonymous where he met a top cartoonist who started Hamilton's career as an artist.

After leaving the Peninsula he established a gallery in Palm Springs where success as an artist overtook him. He has sold paintings to such famous personalities as Dean Martin, Lady Bird Johnson, Bob Hope and General Eisenhower.

Now, back in Carmel where he once exhibited, Hamilton will show at Skaalegaard's Art Gallery and at the Tudor Gallery.

Wonderful Worlds of Caribbean

Enter another world, the world of the Caribbean, and discover for yourself that it's true what they say about tropical islands. All those languid days on the beach, the throb of steel drums in the night, different languages different customs . . . it's a world within a world.

You can dine on matchless cuisine enhanced by a delicate French wine . . . investigate the mysteries of the oriental customs . . . watch a fiery Flamenco dancer, or hunt jaguar in the jungle.

Or perhaps you'd rather relax with high tea in the shade . . . shop for Spode or Meissen . . . see what a coral reef really looks like . . . invade the lair of the Scarlet Ibis, or follow the trail of the buccaneer. It's all in the Caribbean.

From the Cayman Islands and Jamaica to Trinidad, you'll find each island a little different. Some will be pronounced British, others are so French you'll find yourself humming along like Maurice Chevalier. There's a taste of the Far East, and if that isn't enough you can see Spanish Colonial courtyards ablaze with tropical flowers. There are Dutch traditions and Amerindian settlements. You'll find it all in the Caribbean.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

"Once in ancient China there lived a princess who was the fourth daughter of the emperor. She was very tiny. In fact she was so tiny that her name was Djeow Seow, which means 'the smallest one.' And, because she was so tiny, she was not thought very much of—when she was thought of at all." So begins the lovely picture book THE EMPEROR AND THE KITE, by Jane Yolen. Little Djeow Seow eventually rescues her father from the tower where evil men had left him to die. From that day forward, she ruled with her father, on a tiny throne. The soft magenta, green, blue and orange illustrations are a delight. This one is a pleasure to read and to see.

YOU LOOK RIDICULOUS SAID THE RHINOCEROS TO THE HIPPOPOTAMUS is by Bernard, Waber, who endeared himself to me by being the originator of AN ANTEATER NAMED ARTHUR, which was revived in this column a few weeks ago. Anyway, all the animals in the jungle make fun of the hippopotamus because she hasn't any of the fine features which the other aniamls have. She goes to sleep and dreams that she has a horn like the rhinoceros's, a mane like the lion's, spots like the leopard's, a shell like the turtle's etc. Then she shows the other animals how fine she looks. They laugh even more, and she has to admit that she looks even more ridiculous now. Then she wakes up and plops herself into the nearest mudhole and "from that day to this, is proud to be just what she is—a big, fat, wonderful hippopotamus."

Arthur Catherall, author of over sixty books for both adults and children, has written a new one called A ZEBRA CAME TO DRINK. It's an exciting story of life in the jungle. Zaabi is a zebra who gives birth to Ziggi. The story tells about how Zaazi and Ziggi reach safety after many dangers. There is the lioness, the hyenas, the jackals and the poacher. Besides being an exciting story, it tells of the habits and needs of the jungle animals whose lives are in some way involved with Zaabi's. It's a hard book to put down.

Leon Garfield's SMITH has as the main character a twelve-year-old pick-pocket ("and a good one at that"). He lives in 18th century London with his two sisters, who make their living altering the clothes of hanged men. It's a disquieting story, but a good one.

Mussel Quarantine

Doctor Richard S. Fraser, Director of Public Health for Monterey County stated that a quarantine of mussels for human consumption has been established by the State Department of Public Health.

The quarantine has been placed on the entire California shore line, including the coastal waters of Monterey County. It will be in effect from May 1 through October 31, 1968, and will prohibit the taking or selling of mussels for food during that time. However, mussels may be used for bait during this period, provided they are broken open at the time they they are gathered and are placed in containers labeled "Mussel may contain Poison. Unfit for human food."

He emphasized that during the months of September and October, when clams are again in season, they should be thoroughly cleaned and the dark portions should be discarded before cooking, as the poison when present will be concentrated in those portions of the clam.

NATIVE DANCERS CARMEL STYLE

Mau Mau dance with leap and skip,
Maoris feature waving hip.

There is a dance we natives do
Attempting to get fro and to.

Two steps ahead then sudden stop;
You see a gap and take a hop,

But tourists quickly close their ranks
Obdurate as Sherman tanks.

A Fred Astaire or Arthur Murray
Might swivel past them in a hurry.

We natives, not such able skippers,
Are always foiled by summer trippers.

—Marje

New Bible Translations

Some one hundred Bible scholars, working under the sponsorship of the 158-year-old New York Bible Society, have begun a new translation of the Scriptures. It is anticipated that many more will in time be involved in the project.

The scholars, in the words of one of their number, Dr. Burton L. Goddard, "are those who have a high view of Scripture and have long felt the need of a faithful translation."

The group, working under the direction of the Committee on Bible Translation, has as its aim the provision of the Scriptures in modern English, doing for our day that which the King James Version did for its day. Every effort will be made to employ language which will communicate to the man on the street but which at the same time will be well chosen from a literary point of view.

Translators will stress faithfulness to the text and the unity of the parts of Scripture. They will strive to avoid theological and ecclesiastical bias, and through cooperative effort produce a translation which will be widely accepted by the Christian public and used as a standard version in churches throughout the Americas and many of the English-speaking churches abroad.

STORYBOOK VIEW
POINT LOBOS AND THE CARMEL MISSION

Start with a 3-bedroom, 2-bath home set in a rose garden on a hill overlooking this wondrous view, and start with the price of only $45,000. This well-built home has so many nice features like the heavy shake roof, enclosed patio on the Southeast, and the wide open deck on the "view side." Central heat, hardwood floors under carpet, one bedroom and bath on a lower level and completely separate. It's showing its age a little (about 20 years) in the somewhat dated interior, so you'll probably want to spend a little for decorating, which was taken into account in setting the low $45,000 price. Also, you could have immediate possession. If you don't investigate this one, you're not really serious about a home under $50,000!

AND WHILE YOU'RE LOOKING AT VIEWS

We can show you another home priced at a realistic $49,500 which will underscore the reason picture windows are made. If you're gregarious and like to entertain, you'll be delighted with the amount of parking space for your guests, so hard to find. Also good for entertaining, a den, 3 fireplaces (all with kindlers). On a dead-end street, with real privacy, but convenience to all the good things in the Carmel area. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, and minimum yard maintenance. Put this one on your agenda too.

Antique Show In Carmel

The California International Antiques Show and Sale will debut in Carmel at the Holiday Inn July 4-5-6-7 featuring twenty select dealers as a complement to established shops in the area.

The general theme of the show is 'diversification of treasures' in one delightful place for four days, motivating the public to continue the hunt and the search in and among the many reputable dealers on the Monterey Peninsula.

This is the first of a kind for Carmel, and antique buffs from many states and Northern California area are expected to swell the holiday goers over this Independence Day weekend.

Those attending may register for a door prize which will be a twenty dollar gold piece designed by Augustus St. Gaudens. The drawing will be made at the close of the show on Sunday, July 7 at 7 p.m.

The hours are 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily, and 12 noon until 7 p.m. Sunday.

Carmel Psychiatrist Will Talk To PWP

An understanding of new relationships with others as a single parent will be part of the discussion led by Dr. Robert Goulding at the general meeting of Parents Without Partners at the Mark Thomas Inn tonight, June 27, at 8 p.m.

Dr. Goulding is director of the Carmel Institute for Transactional Analysis and an advisor for the Esalen Institute at Big Sur Hot Springs. While he was assistant chief of staff at VA hospitals, he trained with Dr. Eric Berne of Carmel. He is now training group therapists from all over the country.

The public is invited to the meeting, followed by a social hour during which more may be learned about the aims of PWP. Call 373-2795 for more information.

The subject of juvenile behaviour was discussed by Judge Eugene Harrah at the last meeting. "Parents who allow irresponsible young people to use an automobile, or who serve liquor to minors, should not be surprised that their conduct brings them before my court," he said.

"I do not fine juveniles for misdemeanors," he said, "I sentence them to community clean-up work on week-ends."

Champagne Fashion Preview

The Beach and Tennis Club at Pebble Beach will host a champagne preview of resort fashions for men to be presented by the newly opened Roos/Atkins of Pebble Beach on Friday, June 28, from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Bishop Myers At All Saints'

The Episcopal Bishop of California, the Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, S.T.D., will visit All Saints' Church at 9th and Dolores next Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. A class of candidates for the Sacrament of Confirmation will be presented to him by the rector, Fr. David Hill. Bishop Myers will preach at the service and later confer with Episcopal clergy in the tri-county central coastal area for supper.

During the morning services in the Carmel parish Fr. Hill will observe the tenth anniversary of his duties as rector. He came to the Carmel parish in 1953 as part-time assistant with responsibilities for the youth work and Sunday School and under the parish's supervision developed the initial work of the Episcopal Church in Seaside, now St. Matthias' Church. He was ordained priest in the Carmel Church in March 1954 and was called to be rector in 1958. His sermon at the 9:15 a.m. Parish Eucharist and again at 11 a.m. Morning Prayer will be "AFTER A DECADE: HOT OR COOL?"

Julian P. Graham Studio

Roos/Atkins Resort Shop at Del Monte Lodge opened its doors on Saturday with Aime G. Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties Company cutting the ribbon. Standing left to right are Mrs. Ann Williams, manager of the attractive new shop, Mr. Michaud, and Bob Brown, district manager of Roos/Atkins. The new shop will be open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 5:30 and on Sunday from 11 until 4 p.m.

Carmel Business Association Meeting

One hundred and forty members and guests attended the Carmel Business Association Summer Dinner Meeting last Thursday night. It was a very pleasant social evening and Carmel Police Chief Clyde Klaumann introduced the speaker, Mr. Charles Bates, Special Agent, FBI. Mr. Bates talked on the need for citizen cooperation with the police. He said there is a need for our return to the principles of Christianity and the exercise of the Golden Rule in helping our fellow man, especially when he is in trouble.

Your reporter and his wife sat at a table between First Federal Savings and Loan's manager and his wife, the David Langs, and the Robert J. Ramseys of Highland Inn. Across from us were Mr. and Mrs. Don Berry of the Galleon and Del Dono Court and Carmel's United California Bank manager Don Nelson and his wife.

Highlands Inn's new French chef demonstrated his ability to serve a real gourmet meal, one of the best I have eaten when a large crowd is served.

New members who were attending the meeting were introduced. They were: Joan and Charles Willingham of Beauty-by-the-Sea; Bill and Francie Lindsey of Carmel Bridal & Formal Salon; Bob and Iris Copeland of Coffee Beans & Tea Leaves; Roberta and D. Logan Hill of D. Logan Hill Art Gallery; Satoru Yoshibato of Tokyo Gift Shop; Jack and Inge Borg of Hide Away, and Ed Neroda, new owner of Comstock Associates who is also newly appointed to the Carmel Planning Commission.

Several local city officials attended including Carmel Mayor Bernard Laiolo, Councilman Ken Brown and his wife Beryl, City Clerk Hugh Bayless and his wife, Ashton Stanley, newly appointed to the Cultural Commission and Dorthea Robert of the Planning Commission. President Charles McEwen was unable to attend so Mary R. Barter presided in his place.
